

Health Psychology Division
Organizational Psychology Division

Corporate Address:
10367 W. Centennial Rd., Suite 100
Littleton, CO 80127
303-832-1068
800-873-7138
Fax 303-832-9701
www.minesandassociates.com

July 23, 2009

Letter of Reference: Mr. Julian Jung Lee

To whom it may concern:

This letter of reference is for Mr. Julian Jung Lee. I have known Mr. Lee for close to twenty years in the capacity as his student and friend.

Master Lee was an excellent teacher and motivator for his students. He brought numerous students through the ranks to black belt during the years I studied with him. Many of his students from his school went on to open their own schools, excel at tournaments and grow as people.

I had many conversations with Master Lee about Zen Buddhism, Korean Buddhism and other forms. He was always curious about the application of Eastern and Western Psychology to personal growth and to the martial arts.

Master Lee was generous with his students, giving extra of his time and knowledge when they were interested in receiving it. He included them in some of his early films which added another dimension to their training.

He was a consistent and continuous promoter of Tae Kwon Do and personal development without being dogmatic about it. He was an equal opportunity teacher, meaning he had students of all ages, both genders and all races and religions in his school.

I have the highest respect for Mr. Lee. He has persevered through adversity and challenges throughout his martial art and movie career. His positive mental attitude has helped him succeed through many challenges that would have overwhelmed and defeated others who were not as clear and focused on their goals.

Please contact me if you need further information.

Sincerely,

Robert A. Mines, Ph.D.

CEO & Psychologist

Third Dan, Tae Kwon Do; First Dan, Danzan Ryu Jujitsu